

The Good Food Collective offers CSA (Community Supported Agriculture) style membership to individuals and families in the Rochester Area. The Good Food Collective (GFC) works with a network of partnering farms and delivers to a range of workplace-based and community-based distribution locations.

Next summer here at the Arnett Branch Library!

Members sign-up and pay before the start of the season and then receive a weekly selection of local, fresh, organically grown vegetables and sustainable fruit each week for 16 weeks, mid June to mid October.

Interested in learning more about The Good Food Collective? Please join us at the Arnett Library for a GFC information session. Come learn more about The Good Food Collective experience, membership options, additional shares, and more.
